

MN Internship Center partners with Asian Media Access (AMA) to provide live teaching via tele-link to high school students in Hunan Province, China. The courses are late evening or very early morning due to the time difference. AMA has the technology, which is not for sale in the USA. AMA is the financial agent.

Current openings include Environmental Science and also Computing, high school level. I do not have the details, but I will connect anyone interested. The courses are in English, but the students have very little conversational skill. There are teachers and assistants in the Chinese classrooms to assist.
