51 schools responded to this survey.

- 48 schools have the same graduation requirements as their mainstream high school
- 3 schools have some variables in graduation requirements as their mainstream high school

51 responses

If you have two different sets of credits required, how did your district make that decision?

Themes from the answers:

- Same credits by subject area
- ALCs have latitude in substituting classes from mainstream high school
- Competency based graduation path for students over 18 (prepare, test, and complete career college ready requirements added to the diploma)
- In settings where multiple districts are represented at the ALC, multiple graduate requirements were difficult to track. With MDE's support, created an ALC credit requirements. True differences between the new requirements is the electives needed.
- ALC is listed on the transcript, not the diploma. The name of the school district is on the diploma.
- Follow the requirements from the resident district
- Exactly the same requirements (listed multiple times by respondents)
