MAAP STARS Vision:

“Achieving extraordinary life changing results for learners throughout the world”

What is MAAP STARS?

Founded in 1993, MAAP is the Minnesota Association of Alternative Programs. STARS (Success, Teamwork, Achievement, Recognition, and Self-esteem) is a broad based vocational student organization for students in secondary alternative programs in the United States.

MAAP STARS Events

MAAP STARS holds three statewide events each year: The Fall Leadership Conference, Legislative Day, and the Spring Events Conference. Many of our MAAP regions and individual programs hold other STARS activities throughout the year.

STARS Fall Leadership Conference

Each fall, this event offers a chance for member schools to send students and staff to develop leadership skills, teamwork, and learn more about STARS. Workshops are held on topics such as how to run a STARS chapter, how to prepare for STARS events, and creativity.

A new slate of student officers is elected each year at this conference to represent the organization and assist in planning and implementing the year’s activities. Each school may choose to run one candidate for this leadership team. There is a limit to how many students a school may bring from their member school (4 to 6). Look for the conference mailing for more information.

Legislative Day

During a specific day (usually in February), each member school brings a group of student leaders to the State Capitol to meet with their legislators. A general session is held to provide information on the MAAP platform, educational issues, and on how to approach and talk to legislators. Key legislative leaders also address the group and STARS officers obtain a proclamation from the Governor declaring that week as “Alternative Education Week in Minnesota.”

Spring Events Conference

This two-day conference gives students the opportunity to showcase their skills in the Minnesota Standards as well as artistic, career, and life skills.

Students participate as individuals and/or in teams in Competitive Events and are judged by volunteers. The students also participate in Demonstration Events: Artistic Performance, Project Demonstration, and Artistic Display.

This is the most popular activity each year, with over 300 students from around the state attending the event. Students have an opportunity to receive recognition for their work and improve their self-esteem during the award sessions.

MAAP STARS Motto

We Make a Difference!

Purpose of MAAP STARS

- To develop employment, academic, and social skills.
- To experience career related activities that in turn assist students in making an informed career choice.
- To build a cooperative and competitive spirit through individual and team activities and competition.
- To strengthen social skills and build an appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship, brotherhood, and the American free enterprise system.
- To develop self-confidence, increase motivation, and create a desire for and belief in life-long learning.
- To meet with, have fun with, and ultimately develop an appreciation for students and staff from other alternative program.

MAAP STARS Membership

There is an annual fee to become a member school to cover expenses. For more information or to join, please visit <http://www.maapmn.org>, <https://sites.google.com/site/maapstars/>, or the MAAP Facebook page <https://www.facebook.com/maapmn>. Visit Maapstars_subscribe@yahoo.com to get on our list serve and start receiving materials via email. Then watch the MAAP web sites and your email for updated information. Most mailings come out about 4 weeks prior to the event and are posted on the MAAP web site (www.maapmn.org). Registration deadlines are strictly enforced.

High School Events Outline for April 2017

I. Competitive Events

A. Team Competitive Events:

1. Team Advertising

A team of 2-4 students will prepare a promotional plan for a 5-15 minute presentation before a panel of judges.

2017 Topic: Advertising Campaign for a product, event or place in your school or community

2. Team Management Decision Making

A team of 2-4 students will get a work-related management problem and 15-30 minutes to prepare a solution for a 5-12 minute presentation before a panel of judges.

3. Parenting Decision Making

A team of 2-4 students get a parenting related problem situation, a decision making guide, and 15-30 minutes to prepare a solution. Then they make a 10-minute presentation before a panel of judges.

4. Team Video Promotion

A team of 2-4 students will prepare a commercial or infomercial (one to three minutes in length) designed to air on the Internet. The promotion will be presented to the judges on the team's own computer.

2017 Topic: Original promotion for your school or program

5. Community Service Project

This event involves the planning, organization, implementation, and evaluation of a single service project.

6. School Annual Program of Activities

This event provides an opportunity for schools to develop a plan of activities for the year, and then organize, implement, and evaluate these activities throughout the year.

7. Entrepreneurship

An individual or team of 1-4 students will research and develop a Business Plan to start a business or organization. Participants are encouraged to develop an authentic opportunity, but may develop a hypothetical one.

8. LifeSmarts

A "game show" style competition, which tests the knowledge of a team of students on important consumer information in an entertaining way, and rewards them for knowledge.

B. Individual Competitive Events:

1. Employment Interview

Participants select a position to interview for from a list of entry-level jobs. Students will complete an application form and interview for maximum of 8 minutes.

2. Workplace Relations Decision Making

Participants will get a decision making guide and 30 minutes to prepare a solution to a job related problem. An 8-minute presentation to judges will follow.

3. Public Speaking

Participants will prepare and deliver a 3-5 minute speech before a panel of judges.

4. Career Portfolio

Participants will prepare a portfolio-style resume with information and samples that emphasize their skills, work experience, training, and/or future career plans. (Creativity is encouraged!) Students will then use their portfolio during a job interview.

5. Job Manual

Participants will prepare a manual about the job in which they are currently employed. Manuals will be turned in at registration. Contestants will not meet with a judge. Manuals can be picked up after judging is complete.

6. Entrepreneurship

An individual or team of 1-4 students will research and develop a Business Plan to start a business or organization. Participants are encouraged to develop an authentic opportunity, but may develop a hypothetical one.

II. Demonstration Events

A. Project Demonstrations

A 10-minute presentation about any type of learning project completed by a student or group of students. Presenters are encouraged to use a variety of methods: oral, written, video, pictures, computers, etc., to make their presentation. Examples: school video, community service, formation of a band, homemade children's toys, CPR instruction, newsletter, hobbies or other interests. Will be scheduled to present on Day 1. (Continued on day 2 if needed)

B. Artistic Performance

Perform or present an artistic work in dance, original creative writing, music, theater, or media arts. This is a public performance in front of an audience, and should be 3-5 minutes in length. Examples: poetry, song, dance, comedy, play, etc... Will be performed on Day 1. (Continued on day 2 if needed)

C. Art Display

Original two or three-dimensional artwork created by the student. Artwork must be accompanied by a one-page biography about the piece and the artist (see handbook). Each piece will receive a confidential critique. Only students participating at the MAAP STARS Conference may display their work. Will be displayed both days of the conference.

MAAP STARS events were designed to let students “show what they know,” a concept that is widely used in alternative programs. STARS events are intended to prepare students for an ever-changing work place. To this endeavor the events are based on the Secretary’s commission on Achieving Necessary Skills Report, the Minnesota Graduation standards and SCANS employability skills. Events are intended to support and encourage, not inhibit creativity and performance.

MAAP STARS events can be used to:

- allow students/staff to create real-life projects
- meet performance assessment and educational goals
- apply and integrate knowledge and higher order thinking skills

Manual

We know the manual is not perfect, and we update it each year. Consequently, it is a working document, and any and all input is welcome. We are also looking for new events and/or improvements to existing events. If you see errors or have suggestions, please send them to:

Linda Valentine, Highview Alternative Program, 2400 Sandburg Lane,
Golden Valley, MN 55427 linda_valentine@rdale.org

Volunteers

STARS is an all-volunteer organization and benefits from a wide range of talent and expertise throughout the years. We are constantly seeking “new blood.” Please consider joining this high-energy group — we can find a role for you! Please contact:

Patti Haasch, (612-751-2490) pjhaasch@yahoo.com

General Spring Conference Information

Event registration will take place prior to and immediately after the Opening Session. The conference begins with a mandatory Opening Session. The times of actual events may change based on registration. Many will begin at 12:00 noon. Students should arrive at the conference hotel dressed and ready to compete.

When students are not working on an event, they should be looking at the student art display, watching project or artistic demonstrations, using the available facilities or meeting new people and friends. There will be a future opportunity fair and entertainment on day 2.

Spring Conference Award Criteria

Recognition is an integral part of the STARS experience, and we try to recognize everyone in a meaningful way. Each participant will receive a certificate and colored ribbons to place on the certificate for each event they complete. For competitive events, the colored ribbons represent:

Gold 90% of winning score

Silver 80% of winning score

Bronze 70% of winning score

In addition, plaques and medals are awarded for places 1-8 in Individual Events and 1-3 in Team Events. Medallions are awarded to the top individuals. Demonstration Events are not scored, but participants receive feedback and a certificate.

Suggestions for preparing for the competition

Read through the manual. Go through the events and have the students sign up for the events that interest them. Take the manual apart, make copies of the individual and team events and distribute copies to each student for their events.

The rating sheets are particularly helpful for preparation. Practicing for the competition allows advisors and other staff an opportunity for instruction, review and/or coaching. Sample case problems are provided for practice. Many textbooks have case problems you could also use for practice.

Students will do the competitive events without observers or an audience. There will be one or more judges, who have been instructed to make this a positive, challenging experience for all. Because of the length of the conference, it is wise to have students sign up for 3 to 5 events, in addition to any artwork displays. This will prevent too much down time and keep students from getting bored. Many advisors require their students to watch the Demonstrations or LifeSmarts events when not competing.

Contact other MAAP STARS advisors that have participated in the past.

Event Scheduling

All team events will be prescheduled. This will help save time and eliminate stress. Advisors will receive team event times at registration, and should have students write these times on their program schedule. Advisors should tell their students how much time to leave open for completion of the event. If a school has multiple teams, students need to know if they are team A, B or C. Students must have their team event times with them when they register for their individual events. Students should write their individual event times on their program schedule, the times given represent when students are to begin their preparation (if the event has prep) for the presentation. It's important that students show up early for events and that event coordinators send students in as soon as the students and the judges are ready.

Students sign up for their own Individual Event times. Register for all of your competitive events before scheduling your demonstration events. We could schedule students and there would be less stress, but we believe strongly in the benefits of this educational time management activity. Advisors need to help students select their times based on team event times and other individual events.

Approximate Time Frames for Events

Individual events:

Employment Interview	50 minutes
Workplace Relations	45-60 minutes
Public Speaking	15 minutes
Career Portfolio	45 minutes
Job Manual	0 (submit at registration, no interview)
Entrepreneurship	20 minutes (submit written entry at registration)

Team events:

Team Advertising	20 minutes (submit written entry at registration)
Team Management Decision Making	45-60 minutes
Parent Decision Making	45-60 minutes
Video Promotion	20 minutes
Community Service Project	25 minutes (submit written entry at registration)
School Annual Program of Activities	0 (submit at registration, no interview)
Entrepreneurship	20 minutes (submit written entry at registration)
LifeSmarts	40 minutes

Scheduling problems: Together with your student try all of the following:

- switch times with another student from your school
- talk to the event coordinators of all conflicting events

Events with multiple stations will have second and possibly third rounds. An equal number of participants will advance from each station. Finals will have the same set of judges.

Above all, encourage students to believe in themselves, think positive, and have fun.

Team Management Decision Making

Sample Problem #1

You are the new manager of a restaurant. You have been working at the restaurant for three years and were promoted to manager four months ago. The previous manager was fired for arguing with and complaining to the owner of the restaurant. Everything went smoothly at first, but you are now faced with a real dilemma.

The owner has two sons, Michael (16 years old) and John (18 years old) who just started working for you. The owner told you that he plans to have his sons run the family business when he retires in a few years. He expects you to teach them the “ins and outs” of the business— everything from washing dishes to ordering supplies to keeping the books.

While Michael is a nice kid, he is careless, not very bright, and has trouble remembering things. He is always forgetting how to do things, even after you tell him several times, and he has made a lot of costly mistakes. If it were any other employee, you would release him after his probationary period is up, or at best, relegate him to dishwashing duty.

John is more intelligent, but is lazy and has an attitude problem. From working with him so far, you can see that he may have the ability to take over the business someday, but he has a chip on his shoulder that makes him very difficult to deal with. If you are not in his presence, John goofs around and doesn't do what he is supposed to do. He has told other employees that he really doesn't have to work hard because his dad owns the place so he can't be fired. In addition, he is constantly hitting on young female workers and customers.

Both Michael and John are causing tension among the staff who feel the two boys don't have to follow the rules because they are the owner's sons. John's negative work attitude has rubbed off on other employees. Some employees have voiced complaints to you, but they are afraid to go to the owner. You feel that your hands are tied because you can't just fire the boss's sons without his approval.

How do you plan to address this situation?

Team Management Decision Making

Sample Problem #2

Upon graduation from high school you began working for John Meyers at the Better Ways Company located in Fridley, MN. Mr. Meyers is head of the shipping department for Better Ways. In the course of a year, Better Ways ships over 100 million dollars worth of inventory. Business has been slipping due to the poor economy.

Your job is to load inventory into trucks that are being shipped out. There are five loaders, you, and the crew foreman, Tim Carns. Mr. Carns is about to retire. After four months on the job, Mr. Meyers calls you into his office. He is happy with your work and promotes you to foreman of your crew. Mr. Meyers then informs you that Better Ways is cutting positions due to recent setbacks. You will have to release two of your crew. Mr. Meyers will leave the decision up to you. Your five loaders are:

1. Ann Wilcox. Ann is thirty years old and has worked for Better Ways for three years. She is a single mother of three children. She is not happy that you have been given the job as foreman and has told you so several times. Her work reviews have not been great, but she always shows up on time and is willing to work extra hours. Her one child is always sick and needs an operation.
2. John Cider. John is forty years old and a great worker. He doesn't want to be foreman. He just wants to do his job as well as he can and go home at night. He has been working for the company for one year.
3. Joe Carns. Joe is Tim's son. He goes to college at night, and needs this job to continue to go to school. He has worked for the company for three years, and has never missed a day of work. However, he is planning to graduate from college in five months.
4. Mary Jackson. Mary is not a great worker, but knows the inventory like the back of her hand. She is able to locate items quickly, which helps save time when the crew is behind. She is always a few minutes late to work each day. She has just announced that she is getting married in eight months and needs a lot of money.
5. Ed Stern. Ed is dependable. He is not too bright, but he works hard. He makes at least three minor loading mistakes a week, but never complains. Ed is 54 years old and has limited chances for other employment due to his slowness.

Who are you going to release and why?

PARENTING DECISION MAKING SAMPLE PROBLEM #1

A 20-year-old single mother, Beth, was having trouble with her four-year-old daughter Kim. Recently, Beth's live-in boyfriend had moved out and Beth was having a difficult time making ends meet. Beth had a full time job and Kim had been in daycare full-time for the past year. In spite of being overworked and over stressed, Beth was very committed to her career. She projected the image of being totally in control of her life and Kim's. Though Kim seemed quieter at home, she still reluctantly obeyed her mother's rules and misbehavior was not an issue. However, at daycare, Kim had recently been acting out, refusing to follow rules, throwing tantrums when she didn't get her way and fighting with other children. The daycare provider has called Beth in to discuss Kim's misbehavior. What should be done?

PARENTING DECISION MAKING SAMPLE PROBLEM #2

Julie and her boyfriend Mark are the parents of three-month-old Brenna. Mark and Julie have stayed together, even though Mark has a bad temper and hasn't always been supportive of Julie. While she was pregnant, Julie felt that she was "in the middle" of a conflict between Mark and her mother. Julie's mother doesn't like Mark and forbids Julie to stay overnight at Mark's house. Mark wants Julie and Brenna to move in with him at his father's house, but Julie is reluctant to do that because the house tends to be chaotic. There is rarely enough food in the refrigerator and the house doesn't seem clean enough for a baby. Brenna has experienced some symptoms of asthma, so Julie is also concerned about Mark's father smoking. Julie wishes her relationship with Mark would improve because she wants him to be there for her and Brenna. Mark would also like to be a good parent, but he's frustrated that Julie won't move in with him. He knows that right now, they can't afford a place of their own, as he is between jobs. What should be done?

TEAM VIDEO PROMOTION

TOPIC: Original Promotion for Your School

PURPOSE: To use fundamentals of advertising and promotion to produce an original technical composition (promotion) for a particular audience.

NOTE TO ADVISORS: Participants are encouraged to supply their own computers. Please ensure that this is an original production created during the current school year.

SPECIFICATIONS:

1. Each team must consist of two to four student participants.
2. Identify a target market.
3. The promotion should be created to air on the Internet as a commercial or infomercial (1-3 minutes: not less than 1 minute and not to exceed 3 minutes)
4. The promotion must be prerecorded on an external media storage device or participants's computer. Teams presenting on computer must supply their own presentation hardware.
5. Only team members involved in the presentation will be allowed in the room unless agreed to by participants and judges.

JUDGING:

1. Each team will be judged based on the criteria contained on the rating sheet. Judges will be briefed by the event administrator on the criteria.
2. The judges will develop a list of three to six questions to be asked of each participant team. The use of other questions which arise from the participant's response is allowed. Probing of the responses is encouraged.

SAMPLE QUESTIONS:

- a) Tell us about the idea behind your video.
- b) How long did it take you to create your video?
- c) What part(s) did each team member play in the creation of the video?
- d) What did you learn?

LIFESMARTS

- PURPOSE:
1. To measure student's knowledge in consumer information
 2. To enhance team-building skills
 3. To give students experience in "thinking on their feet"

ENTRIES: One team per school; 4 - 5 participants per team. More teams could be accommodated in a "Pay In" Round.

SPECIFICATIONS:

LifeSmarts is a game-show competition that tests the knowledge of participants on important consumer information. See "Coach's Guide" for details and preparation information. LifeSmarts, established in 1994, is operated by the National Consumers League that graciously allows STARS to use the program.

1. Questions will be asked from the following categories:
 - Personal Finance
 - Health and Safety
 - Technology
 - Environment
 - Consumer Rights and Responsibilities
2. Teams must have at least four participants to compete, with one alternate permitted. Each team will designate a captain. Teams will be paired by random drawing and will compete in a "tournament" format (2 or 3 teams at a time).
3. There are three rounds to each competition:
 - A. Round 1: (5 points each) Four multiple-choice questions will be offered to the entire team. They will have 10 seconds to confer and have the captain respond.
 - B. Round 2: (5 points each) Four team-plus questions will be used during each round of competition. The first question is for the first player on each team. The second question is asked of the second player on each team, and so on, until each player has had the opportunity to answer one question.
 - When the first player buzzes in, the player's light will come on, and all other buzzers will be blocked. An eligible player may buzz in at any time, but the player must wait for the question master to call the player's name. (If a player answers before being called upon, the answer is disqualified.)
 - Players cannot discuss answers; the person who buzzes in must provide an answer. If an incorrect answer is given, the question master will read the question again for the eligible players on the other teams. Players from other teams must buzz in if they wish to respond.
 - If the player answers the question correctly, the player's team has the opportunity to answer two related questions. The second and third questions are team questions, conferring allowed, and the captain will provide the answers. Only the team that controlled the first question will have the opportunity to answer the second and third questions. If the team does not correctly answer the second question, the third question is not read. Players have 5 seconds to answer the first question, and the captain has 10 seconds to confer with teammates and answer the second and third questions.
 - Questions are open-ended. Each correct answer is worth 5 points.

- C. Round 3 (Challenge Round): (10 points each) Fifteen open-ended questions are offered to all teams. The individual who “buzzes in” first will have an opportunity to answer the question without conferring with teammates. Individuals may “buzz in” before the complete question is read. If an incorrect answer is given, the question master will read the question again for the eligible players on the other teams.
- D. Tie Breaker: (1 point each) If a tie breaker is needed, three Challenge Round style questions will be asked.

RESOURCES

Contact the following resources to obtain information and materials to prepare for the STARS competition. There is a statewide on-line competition beginning each fall that qualifies teams for a live State Tournament in March. The on-line competition is an ideal way to prepare for the STARS Conference.

EMPLOYMENT INTERVIEW

PURPOSE: To demonstrate understanding of interpersonal communication and employment interview strategies.

SPECIFICATIONS

1. Each participant must apply for one of the part-time jobs listed on the “Help Wanted” page included in the materials for this event. Participants must be qualified for the position they are seeking. Participant’s work history and education must be factual.
2. Each participant must introduce him/herself to a receptionist, and state desired position. They will then receive a blank employment application form and must provide their own writing utensil.
3. Each participant will complete an employment application form immediately prior to the actual interview. NO RESUMES or other materials are allowed in this event. Participants are only allowed to use their application and a list of questions to ask the interviewer(s).
4. Student participants are not allowed to give judges any gifts, thank-you cards, or items that might be considered a “bribe.”
5. This event is conducted in two judged stages: receptionist and interviewer. The student may not be judged by the receptionist in the first round BUT WILL BE in the final round.
6. Each participant will be allowed a maximum of eight minutes in which to complete the actual employment interview.

JUDGING:

1. Each participant will be judged based on the criteria contained on the Rating Sheets. Judges will be briefed by the Event Administrator on the criteria. Three is considered an average score.
2. The judges will develop a list of six to eight questions before the event begins which will be asked of each participant. The use of other questions which arise from the participant’s responses is allowed. Probing of the responses is encouraged.
3. The role of interviewer cannot be rotated among the judges of the event.

Workplace Relations Decision Making

Sample Problem #1

Mary, a senior in high school, has been working at Target part-time for almost a year. She works enough hours to make her car payment and have extra cash for spending money. Mary's parents cannot afford to make Mary's car payment so she has to work if she wants to keep her car.

Mr. Lake is Mary's manager. He seems like a good supervisor, but Mary hasn't had much one-on-one communication with him other than to ask basic work questions about stocking shelves.

Tom, also a senior in high school, works as a cashier at the same Target. Tom and Mary occasionally visit at work about school and some friends they have in common. Tom knew that Mary didn't have a boyfriend so he asked her to the prom. Mary told him "no" because she already had a date. Tom found out through Facebook that Mary really didn't have a date, but she didn't want to go to prom with him.

To get back at Mary, Tom is trying to get her in trouble at work. He changed some times on her schedule and time sheet, took a note out of her mailbox informing her of a mandatory staff meeting, among other things. He is also spreading rumors about Mary's "after hours" activities.

Mary can't afford to lose her job. She knows she tell Mr. Lake, but Mr. Lake is Tom's uncle. Mary is worried that Mr. Lake won't believe her side of the story. What should she do?

Workplace Relations Decision Making

Sample Problem #2

Jason has worked at Quick Lube for about a year and a half. He goes to school at the ALC in the mornings and works from 12:00 - 8:00 pm every day. His job works out perfectly for him because he can still go to school and he has weekends off to spend with his girlfriend and son. He is making $9.00 an hour, which is a lot more than he made at his last job. He is scheduled to get a raise next month and is trying to save enough money to get married.

Jason's boss, Scott, just installed a new computer system at the garage. Scott wants his business to have the latest technology that customers have come to expect.

When customers come in for an oil change, the car goes through a twenty-point test. Things such as transmission fluid, brake fluid, the air filter, and tire pressure are checked. Results from the tests are stored in the computer and a printout is given to the customer. Jason thinks this system is great.

However, Jason has a problem with how Scott deals with some of the customers, especially females. When Scott explains the printout to the customer, he tells them that problems with their cars are more serious than they actually are. For example, if the transmission fluid is a bit discolored, Scott will tell them that they need a transmission filter change right away. This will cost them an extra $50.00!

This has been going on for a couple of months now, and Scott is asking his employees, Jason included, to do the same thing. Scott is offering his employees a 2% commission for sales above the original oil change.

Jason knows that this is wrong. He does not want to cheat people, but he does want to keep his job. However, the extra money is tempting. What should he do?

CAREER PORTFOLIO

PURPOSE: To demonstrate an understanding of a specific career through applying a decision-making process in researching, organizing and presenting information directly related to the participant's work, training and career plans. Additionally, participants are expected to use their portfolio in an employment interview setting.

REQUIREMENTS: This event requires a written portfolio and the effective use of the same in an interview situation. The portfolio and interviews are judged separately, but the use of the portfolio in the interview constitutes a major element in scoring.

GUIDELINES FOR THE WRITTEN PORTFOLIO:

1. Participants should select an entry-level position that they are CURRENTLY qualified for or will be in the near future which will lead to a job in their chosen field. For example if a student has a long range plan to become a carpenter, he/she should create a portfolio based on a job application for a job which could help him/her further that goal, such as a job at a Home Depot which would help pay for schooling to obtain his/her goal. Or perhaps the student is thinking of becoming a lawyer, law school is expensive, so the student may have to apply for any type of entry level position to help further the law school dreams.
2. Career portfolios must be a minimum of 10 pages, but should not exceed 20 pages. A page consists of one sheet of paper with materials presented on a single side. The 20-page limit includes title pages, supplementary materials, and visuals but not the cover or table of contents. Page numbers are not required on the cover. Page numbers should be on pages where appropriate (exception would be cover and reference letters). Portfolios should be concise and meaningful collections that reflect a decision making process, and not "padded" with irrelevant materials to reach the page requirements.
3. Career Portfolios must be the original and creative work of the student submitting the work.
4. Career portfolios must be typewritten or word-processed.
5. Relevant artwork, photographs and colored paper are allowed.
6. For specific criteria of focus, please consult the Judges Career Portfolio Evaluation Rubric (attached). Referral to an online tool or website may be allowed if applicable. Student participants are not allowed to give judges any gifts, thank-you cards, or items that might be considered a "bribe."
7. Each Career Portfolio must contain:
 - ◆ A written Introduction (detailing the participant's decision making process and presenting relevant information. The Introduction should address the central questions of WHY this career was chosen and HOW the student plans to pursue the career).
 - ◆ List of Personal References: the list should not include family members and should include references relevant to the career choice, if possible. References must include complete information for each contact.

- ◆ A formal Resume (one page, per employment standards, not including references).
- ◆ Letters of Recommendation: at least 3 are required, with a maximum of 6 included. General letters of recommendation are permitted, but scoring preference will be given to letters that support relevance to the chosen career.
- ◆ Career Information: Information shows preparation needed or specific information about the career.
- ◆ Supplemental Materials: Anything that demonstrates the skills and for the position may be included, including Job Evaluations, Performance Reviews, examples of work from job experiences or internships, related school projects, school assessments, and Career Aptitude Assessments. If school materials or materials not directly relevant to the immediate position are used the participant MUST include a brief explanation for each piece used explaining the relevance of those materials to their chosen career area.

GUIDELINES FOR THE JOB INTERVIEW PORTION:

1. Interviews will be limited to 10 minutes and will be conducted before individual judges. Semi-final and Final interviews will be conducted before a panel of judges.
2. The participants must bring their portfolio to the first interview. The portfolio will be left with the judges at the conclusion of the interview. If a participant makes the Semi-finals and/or Finals, the Judges will make the portfolios available to the participants at their interview times.
3. Participants must present a short written job description (one paragraph) of the position that they are applying for. This description may be included in the portfolio without affecting the page limits, but it must be presented to the judges immediately upon entering the interview. The judges require this information to formulate appropriate questions for the interview.
4. The participant will begin the interview with a short oral statement describing their qualifications for and interest in the position.
5. The participant MUST refer effectively to their portfolio throughout the interview. The participant MUST NOT simply present a “walk-through” of the work collected in the portfolio, but must rather USE the portfolio to support their answers to interview questions.
6. The portfolio is the only printed material that participants are allowed to use in the interview. Referral to an online tool or website may be allowed if applicable.
7. For specifics of scoring on the Interview portion, please consult the Judges Interview Scoring Rubric (attached).

JOB MANUAL

(Non-participatory at state conference. See #1 below.)

PURPOSES:

- To prepare an organized representation of your job & job site
- To gain a better understanding of your job and your relationship to it
- To evaluate

SPECIFICATIONS

1. There will be NO INTERVIEW for this event. The Job Manual will be a single booklet turned in at registration and returned at the end of the conference.
2. This manual will be completed for a job in which you are currently employed.
3. The manual will be a single booklet.
4. The cover should relate to your job (be creative).
5. The contents will include information from the outline on the next sheet. The information is to be written in paragraph form and in your own words. Write it so a person who knows nothing about your job could read and understand it. (Pretend you are responsible to train someone in for your job, except you can't be there to talk with him; you must pass on the information through this manual.)
 - Correct spelling is a must. Contents can be word processed or written clearly in ink.
6. Pamphlets, copies of company policies, forms, and career literature are to be placed in the appendix.
7. Job manuals may not be submitted for the same company and student more than two years. If the same company is used the second year, changes have to be made from year one.

Requirements for Job Manual

Cover: Be creative! Include on the cover: Your Job Title; Job Site; and Your Name

Part 1 - History & Function of Company

- E. State the number of employees in your company.
- F. Include a floor plan of the business or, if it's a very large business, include a floor plan of the department in which you work.
- G. List the employee benefits available to part-time & fulltime employees. (Examples: medical insurance, sick leave, vacations, employee discounts, training for job advancement, etc.)

Part 2 - Your Job

- A. The heading for this section will be your job title at your job site.
- B. Write a brief job description.
- C. Explain the qualifications a person needs in order to do your job. (Include personal characteristics, experience, education, etc.)
- D. Explain a typical day/shift at your job. Include:
 - description of your work area
 - your duties and responsibilities
 - forms or supplies you use to do your job
 - special vocabulary needed for your job
 - safety & health regulations for your job
 - labor laws, rules & regulations for your job
- E. Describe your favorite part of your job.
- F. Include a self-evaluation of your job performance and an employer evaluation of your job performance. Write a comparison of the two evaluations and state your next job performance goals.

Part 3 - Related Careers

- A. List other jobs available at your job site. State which of these might interest you in your career future.
- B. List other related jobs (beyond those available at your job site) that might interest you in your career future.
- C. Describe the career outlook, advancement possibilities, and potential earnings for careers in A & B that are of interest to you.
- D. Describe the positive and negative aspects of this general career area in which you are employed.

Part 4 - Appendix - Include related forms & company literature.

Bibliography - List the resources (including human) you used for this manual.

ARTISTIC PERFORMANCE

PURPOSE: Perform or present an artistic work in dance, original creative writing, music, theater, or media arts.

SPECIFICATIONS:

1. Any performing art form can be presented:
 - music,
 - original creative writing,
 - media arts
 - dance
 - comedy
 - theater

2. The length of each presentation should be no less than three minutes and no longer than five minutes. Set up and strike time is not included in this time. However, set up and strike should be as short as possible and no longer than 5 minutes. Time will be called if the length is excessive.

3. Participants will perform in front of a live audience and two or more evaluators.

4. The content and style of each performance is expected to be in good taste. Your advisor should be of assistance in this matter. Performance will be terminated if offensive or too loud.

5. Appropriate props and equipment can and should be used in moderation, as not to slow the concert setting. Advisors will help.

6. Performances are expected to be well rehearsed.

7. Do not hesitate to use experienced performers as advisors to ensure the best possible, most professional performance.

ARTISTIC PERFORMANCE EVALUATION HINTS

Each entry will be evaluated by a panel of two or more evaluators. The evaluations should be helpful in assisting you to improve future performances. This is a public performance. There will be no placement awards in terms of winners. You are all winners. Instead you will receive an accomplishment award for your participation.

ITEMS TO KEEP IN MIND:

1. A short introduction. This will not be counted as part of your performance time.
2. Consider the audience to whom you are playing. Don't think about or worry about the evaluators. Remember they are not here to judge you.
3. Plan the use of dress, props, and equipment with great care. Less is better in this setting.
4. ORIGINALITY, ORIGINALITY This is a chance to show off your talents. Make it your own.
5. Clear diction, grammar, and pronunciation are essential to all good performances.
6. 86 decibels or less.
7. Practice set up and strikes as much as you do your performance and you will be ahead, especially bands and theater pieces.
8. The evaluators will rate your entry as one of the following:
 - Professional Quality
 - Good Quality
 - Average
 - Not ReadyThey will define these terms in detail on the evaluation sheet.

Remember to indicate this event on the main registration form.

You must register for a time and fill out an individual registration form when you arrive at the conference

ART DISPLAY

PURPOSE: To create an original work of art, display the work of art at the MAAP STARS Conference, and receive feedback in the form of a verbal critique.

Evaluation:

You will register for the art critique like you do for the rest of your events. When your event is called, you will meet as a small group and talk about your art and the artwork of others. All artwork will receive feedback in the form of a verbal critique from a professional artist or art educator. All comments will be respectful and encouraging

MAAP participants will also have an opportunity to provide feedback to the artists at the conference. All the feedback form will be placed in an envelope and given to the participants at the end of the event. They will not be made public.

NOTE TO ADVISORS: Advisors should screen feedback forms before giving them to the students.

Specifications:

1. Only students participating at the MAAP Conference may submit their work for display.
2. The theme this year is “What is art?” (Using the theme is optional.)
3. Select a quality piece of artwork you have completed this year.
4. If it is a drawing, photograph, pen and ink, pastel, etc. mount it neatly making certain that it has a stiff backing so it will not bend on an easel.
5. If it is a painting the canvas edge should be painted, finished, or preferably framed although framing is not required.
6. Three-dimensional work will be displayed on table tops.
7. Write a biography following these directions. (An example follows at the end of this section.)
 - A. Title of work
 - B. Student’s full name
 - C. Student’s age
 - D. Materials used to create the work
 - E. School or program
 - F. Location of program (city, town, etc.)
 - G. Paragraph written by student about him or herself
 - H. Second paragraph written by student about the artwork
 - I. Biographies* are to be mounted and able to rest neatly on an easel next to the student’s work without bending or sagging. Biographies for three-dimensional work should be able to “stand up” in the same way as freestanding picture frames.

*See biography example on next page.

- Bring your artwork to the art display registration area at the beginning of the conference. Look for the sign. Write your name and school on your artwork.
- Pick up your artwork at the end of the conference along with your critique and participant award.

All work will be accepted for display if it is in accordance with the guidelines if it is quality work, and is not disrespectful to any person, group or culture. If a work is rejected for any of these reasons, an explanation will be provided to the student.

The Future Arrives

Black and White Photographs

Deer River ALC

Deer River, MN

I'm a full-time student at Deer River ALC and work part-time at the Quick Stop. Since I was a kid I've been into drawing. Most of my artwork is on notebook pages. If I could, I would like to get a job in the field of art but that seems to be a long shot. I haven't totally given up on the idea. I'd like to try computer animation and I've heard there are jobs in that area.

This year our ALC has a dark room and I've been able to use an old Pentax to do some shooting. I really like the mood you can capture with black and white photography. And when I'm in the dark room I like the effects I am able to achieve by developing the prints myself. This is a three piece series I named "The Future Arrives" because it reminds me of the way things might be in the future...depending on the choices we make now.
